Invitation from the President

It is my sincere pleasure to welcome you to the 2020 NYSSMA® Cyber Summit. These are different times for everyone in this country, and this world, but we are facing them together and our Cyber Summit is a prime example of how we continue to give our membership the tools they need to succeed.

NYSSMA® President-Elect Russ Faunce has been working tirelessly to generate an eclectic list of sessions, guest speakers, virtual showcases, and student performances by our electronic music showcase students and our student composers. Included in his plans are over one hundred on-demand sessions for viewing at your leisure, and many showcases featuring the expertise of our exhibitors and NYSSMA Institutional Members. There is certainly something for everyone.

We are excited to have world renowned Soprano and ARTS/HEALTH advocate Renée Fleming present a Keynote address to open the Summit. Other Keynotes will be given by NAfME President, Dr. Mackie Spradly, Eastern Division President, Dr. Keith Hodgson and I will provide updates to NYSSMA members on the state of affairs in New York. Finally, we are also excited to announce in addition to the other wonderful guest speakers, we will have Dr. Constance McKoy from the University of North Carolina Greensboro School of Music. She is a renowned speaker on Diversity and Inclusion which is at the forefront of my Presidency and the Leadership I hope to continue to bring to our organization.

In addition, I'm very proud of the work that has been done by the three COVID ad hoc committees that were established back in the spring involving all fifteen zones, members, and council members. All three committees will have the opportunity to showcase their work on Friday evening of the Summit. Our affiliate organizations - ACDA, ASTA, NYSBDA and NYSCAME will be providing the opportunity for music educators to get involved in discipline-related content. The classroom committee will have featured material and our collegiate members will also have opportunities for professional growth. Friday evening will conclude with a variety of zoom social events providing you with the opportunity to connect with old and new friends.

We are living in uncharted territory and I hope this Cyber Summit brings the information, updates, and strengths needed for you to succeed in your music classrooms. Plan to join us in celebrating MUSIC EDUCATION IN A CHANGING WORLD.
